Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 21 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly dry. Bright this morning, cloudy this afternoon. Freshening winds.

Today:
Most places will have a dry day with some sunshine. Clouding over from the west this afternoon with a little rain breaking out over north Argyll. Freshening southwest winds. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying mainly dry with some clear periods at first then becoming cloudy. Rain reaching north Argyll later tonight, becoming heavier by morning. Strong southwest winds with gales on West Coast. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Wednesday:
Mainly dry, bright morning then becoming cloudy. Rain over north Argyll will edge southeastwards during the afternoon and evening, heavier for a short time. Southwesterly winds easing. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
A changeable few days. It will be rather cloudy with rain at times, most persistent over west Argyll but more patchy further east with some drier weather. Fresh westerly winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.